MEDIA ALERT

Resolution Productions Launches in Chicago

New combined services website offers single source production solutions

WHO: Resolution Digital Studios[®], Show Department[®], and The Screen Works[®] launch the umbrella of Resolution Productions.

WHAT: After years of operating three different companies independently, Resolution Productions realized that a combined entity would service many of their client needs as a one-stop shop production resource. “Our strength as an organization lies in the synergy of the three pulling together as one to meet the challenges of the new market” said Jeff Facklis, co-founder.

WHERE: www.resolutionproductionsgroup.com

WHEN: Tuesday, September 18, 2012

About Resolution Productions:

Resolution Productions is a single-source solutions company with broad in-house production resources and passionate professionals who support the marketing objectives of our clients worldwide.

Our capabilities include content creation for agencies, film and television production, staging and execution of corporate regional, national and international events, and the delivery of web/satellite production for internal and public broadcast. Resolution Productions is comprised of a Family of Solutions: Show Department[®], Resolution Digital Studios[®] and The Screen Works[®]. When these solutions are combined, our integrated project management process blends seamlessly with our technical expertise; resulting in an unparalleled elevation for our client’s message, delivered in the most unique, cost efficient manner.
